Proposed Apartment Building Causes Concern

The sign posted on the corner of Beaver Bank Road and Stokil .

Have you noticed the sign on Beaver Bank Road and Stokil Drive indicating the intention to build a 56 unit apartment building? Some residents certainly have and they are not happy about it. Here are two letters from Beaver Bank residents who have expressed their displeasure.

"On Monday October 6th I attended a public information meeting regarding Development Agreement 19260, a proposal to build a 4 story apartment building on the southeast corner of the Beaver Bank Rd. and Stokil Drive. My reason for attending this meeting is that I thought that this proposal was inappropriate to the area and would change the nature of the neighborhood. It would be the first apartment building on the Beaver Bank Road. I live on Majestic Ave. and am a long time Beaver Bank resident. I have always believed that Beaver Bank and Lower Sackville are an inseparable part of my neighborhood. I was surprised that such a development could be proposed for what is otherwise a residential area.

At the meeting visual presentations were shown to participants of buildings similar to the building purposed for Sackville constructed by the same firm on peninsular Halifax. It was explained that the land use designation for the area does permit this type of development and examples of other types of structures that could be developed under the C-2 designation were given. The Beaver Bank Road area is a former rural area that has gone under a lot of development in recent years. However, the infrastructures of the area have not always kept pace. As most of the services that people from the area need are provided outside the area most families will have at least two vehicles. We have been told that the Beaver Bank Road is already at capacity. I believe that bringing a building with limited parking and limited transit options will add significantly to the stress in the area. This development is not just an issue for the people of Lower Sackville as it will affect everyone who uses the Beaver Bank Road. What is appropriate for on peninsular Halifax may not be appropriate for a developing rural area. I would hope that Council would look closely at the land use designations in this area. Beaver Bank is an area that still retains some of its rural charm and I would not like to see this type of development go ahead.

Signed,
Glen McClare
Beaver Bank"

This letter is from the Chair of the Beaver Bank Community Awareness Association:

"I also attended that same meeting re a 50 plus condo unit to be built on the corner of Stokil and the Beaver Bank road. I had one question in mind: weren't we told that a building moratorium is in effect in Beaver Bank thus limiting development? The reason being, our one and only main road and the restrictions of the sewer and water systems, which at this point, cannot handle any more volume. I had to know what difference does a set of railway tracks make. I received the grandfather clause story which enables to build before the hold on development. I then asked for a copy of the projects that were grandfathered so we could see and plan for what was coming down the road. The answer I got from that was.....

I am not trying to promote construction in our community. I believe it is time for the Bypass to start. It is happening all around us, Lucasville, (who doesn't even want the road) and a Wellington connector to Aerotec Park. These projects may be years before they are completed, but we have been fighting for our road since 1988. Oh did I mention a 60 unit senior complex being built within the next two years on the same corner

Any questions you can call planning at 902-490-4472 or you can email Tyson Simms at simmsst@halifax.ca. I wasn't satisfied with any of his answers. Hope you have better luck.

Signed,
Victor Cobb"

News from Station 48

Since my last article your Fire Dept. has responded to 33 calls. They consisted of: 1 power pole fire, 1 brush fire, 1 power wires down, 2 vehicle fires, 2 CO detector, 4 illegal burns, 5 medical assists, 5 structure fires, 5 MVA and 7 alarms activated. This brings our total for the year to 89. Fortunately, all of the structure fires were out of our area so I'm happy to see the residents of Beaver Bank are staying safe!

I hope everyone had a great summer and is enjoying the cooler autumn weather. With the change of seasons come changes to the burning regulations. As of October 16 the burning restrictions are no longer in effect. Late fall and winter are a great time to burn up the excess brush around your property when the forest is wet and less likely to catch fire. Remember there are different regulations in Halifax for areas with water and sewer, so make sure you check the regulations before you burn.

The first Saturday in November will be the end of Daylight Savings Time and the day you should change the batteries in your smoke detectors. Having working smoke detectors in your home is your best defense against someone in your family being overcome by smoke should you experience an unexpected fire.

The cooler weather also means it is time to fire up the wood stove and pellet stove and it also means it is time to clean your chimney. Your chimney will accumulate the greatest amount of creosote when you are burning your stove slowly on low heat. You should be checking your chimney on a regular basis and cleaning it on a regular basis. Remember you cannot clean your chimney too often.

Winter driving and poor road conditions are just around the corner so please ensure your vehicle's tires are up for the challenge. Winter tires are not only for getting you moving they are to help you turn and more importantly help you stop. We see a lot of vehicles involved in winter accidents that have less than ideal tires.

Remember if we can't find you we can't help you!

Please drop into the Fire Station any Tuesday night between the hours of 7:00pm and 8:00pm to order your blue reflective civic number signs. This is the least expensive thing you will ever do to protect your family when emergency services need to find you quickly.

Goodbye for now and have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Station Chief
Tim Keddy

Do you have concerns about speeding in your community?

The Beaver Bank Community RCMP office is making this speed detector available to our residents in an effort to slow the traffic down and keep our community safe. Remember that you should always report dangerous incidents to the RCMP via 911 if it is an emergency or 244-7208 if it is not an emergency. Normally, this is for information purposes only but if problem areas are identified, a Citywatch message may be warranted or the RCMP may be asked to increase activity in that area.

If you would like to make a request to have the sign erected in your neighbourhood, please contact our office at 864-6072 to find out more!

Remember and Thank Those Who Serve

On November 11th, we pay special homage to those who died in service to our country. We should also take the opportunity to honour and thank the many men and women who have served and are still serving on behalf of our country. Let's take time to remember the freedom that we enjoy and remember why we must work for peace every day of the year.

Personal Development Credit Benefits Students, Organizations

The Provincial Government is hoping more organizations will participate in a program that provides students with a unique experience and gives them a high school credit. The Personal Development Credit gives students more choices in meeting graduation requirements and allows them to earn half or full elective credits. To be a credit provider, organizations must offer community leadership, arts or language services that meet the requirements in the Personal Development Credit policy. Organizations interested in becoming a credit provider can apply online at <http://pdc.ednet.ns.ca>. Junior Achievement of Nova Scotia, 4-H and Gymnastics Nova Scotia are organizations that have benefitted from the program.

Volunteer Firefighters Needed

Halifax Regional Fire & Emergency is an organization dedicated to saving lives and protecting property through fire prevention, suppression and public education. They are committed to continuous learning and superior customer service. If you like helping people, appreciate continuous learning, and are physically fit, you may be an ideal candidate for a position as a volunteer firefighter.

Halifax Regional Fire & Emergency are currently recruiting residents from our suburban and rural communities to become Volunteer Firefighters. For a list of Fire Stations currently recruiting, visit our website – www.halifax.ca/fire or call Volunteer Program Manager, Heather McKay 902-490-5611.

Province Apologizes to Former Residents of Nova Scotia Home for Colored Children

Premier Stephen McNeil offered a formal apology on October 10th to those who suffered abuse and neglect at the Nova Scotia Home for Colored Children. The premier apologized to former residents for the trauma they endured and thanked them for their courage in telling their stories.

A design group is developing terms for a restorative public inquiry to examine what happened at the home and why. The government reached a 29-million-dollar settlement with former residents that was finalized last month. The claims period opens this week. The province is also working with health-care providers to give support to former residents who find the claims and inquiry process difficult. They can get help by calling 1-866-330-5952.

Nominations Open for Student Respectful Citizenship Award

Every day students across Nova Scotia make positive differences in their schools and communities. The Nova Scotia Lieutenant Governor's Respectful Citizenship Award recognizes students around the province who demonstrate leadership and a commitment to creating safe and inclusive spaces in schools and/or communities in Nova Scotia. Now in its second year, the award is given annually to up to 20 students in Primary to Grade 12 in public, private, or homeschool. Nomination forms have been sent to schools and can be found at www.Antibullying.novascotia.ca. The deadline for nominations is Friday, November 28th.

Remembrance Day

Please take the time this Remembrance Day to honour and remember our veterans, as well as their families, who bravely served our country and those who died in service. Please also take the time to thank our currently serving Canadian Forces and RCMP personnel and their families as well as firefighters, police, paramedics and other first responders.

Federal Election 2015

I am pleased to say that I will once again seek the nomination to represent constituents in Parliament in the 2015 federal election. The new federal riding for the 2015 federal election is called Sackville-Preston-Chezzetcook. In 2012, the Federal Electoral Boundaries Commission for Nova Scotia proposed changes to our federal riding boundaries. After gathering public input on the proposed changes, the Commission redrew the riding boundaries to reflect the increase in population in the suburban communities of our riding. Although much of our federal riding remains the same, the Miller Lake area near Fall River will now belong to the Sackville-Preston-Chezzetcook riding, Musquodoboit Harbour and Jeddore will be represented by the federal riding of Central Nova, and Shearwater will be represented by Dartmouth-Cole Harbour in the 2015 election. The Commission also determined that a new name would more appropriately describe the geographic area of the new riding and recommended "Sackville—Preston—Chezzetcook". The riding name now reflects the English, African Nova Scotian, and Acadian heritage of this new federal riding. The changes to our federal riding boundaries have now been approved by the House of Commons. I thank you for your continued support and encouragement and if re-elected, look forward to playing a role in a new change of government.

NDP supports Canada- Korea trade deal

The NDP has announced its support for the Canada-South Korea Trade Agreement. This is Canada's first trade agreement with an Asian country. South Korea is a democratic country with a high-standards economy and the trade deal will provide significant benefits for Canada. At the same time, as our federal government continues to pursue trade deals with other nations, we must ensure that strong environmental and labour protections are in place and that certain aspects of our economy continue to be protected.

Response to unanimous Veterans Committee report is extremely disappointing

The federal government has released its response to the House of Commons Standing Committee on Veterans Affairs (ACVA) report The New Veterans Charter: Moving Forward. I am extremely disappointed in their response. The federal government will take more time to study several of our recommendations thereby delaying and denying much needed improvements. Our report was unanimous and we expected the federal government to take decisive action to improve benefits for injured veterans and their families. As Official Opposition Critic for Veterans Affairs, I will continue to press the federal government to take action on these issues.

A vision for a digital Canada

The NDP has outlined proposals on how the federal government can help make Canada a leader in a new digital era. New technologies are transforming society and our economy and the federal government has an important leadership role to play. My colleague Charmaine Borg and NDP critic for digital issues identifies the following issues: the need for modern privacy legislation, closing the digital divide between urban and rural areas, investing in training and education for digital literacy, helping small business develop in the digital marketplace, ensuring government data is available and accessible digitally, and supporting the creation and distribution of Canadian cultural content in digital formats.
