The Fate of the White Bungalow

A meeting was held on June 16th to discuss the fate of the white schoolhouse in Kinsac.

Ron Heiman – HRSB Director of Operations Services presented a detailed overview of the current state of repair of the White Bungalow.

Approximately 20 people in attendance including HRSB Staff, the SAC, Councilor Brad Johns, and MLA Stephen Gough.

The facility is not currently delivering program and is currently used for storage. The last time it was used was in 2013-14 for the BBK

Elementary Breakfast Program.

In 2014, a walk through and consultation was conducted which included – an architect, structural, mechanical, and electrical engineers.

The findings were (not limited to) that the building:

- Has poor Flame Spread Rating
- Sustained extensive water and moisture damage
- Has poor air quality

- Contains Hazardous Materials such as Asbestos within
- Roof/architectural design not up to current code

HRSB took the approach, "What is required to make this building safe for program delivery?"

The answer was: approximately $700,000.00 in renovations.

The HRSB Capital and Maintenance budget is currently $500,000/year

- The province kicks in an additional $385,000.00

White Bungalow (Cont'd)

Additionally, the HRSB is currently maintains a budget for the following annual expenses for the White Bungalow:

- Power - $1,800.00
- Fuel - $6,100.00
- Maintenance – approximately $6/sf

It becomes clear that the HRSB just doesn't have the available capital to invest in a facility that is not currently (or necessary for) delivering programs and the way forward would be to demolish the building.

The cost to demolish the building is approximately $50,000.00 and it will be put to tender by HRSB. The timeframe for the demolition is July 2015.

Mr. Heiman highlighted the following capital investments that have been committed to BBK Elementary this year, and those are:

- Asphalt - $50,000.00
- Gym - $75,000.00
- Well Servicing - $8,000.00

Following Mr. Heiman's presentation, the meeting continued in the form of an interactive session which allowed attendees to collaborate on how they would like to see the school memorialized.

The attendees broke into groups and presented their ideas to the group on large

There were a variety of ideas on how to memorialize the Middle Beaver Bank School including:

- Building a monument to its memory
- Creating a document (history) of the building
- Having an open house at BBK Elementary
- Repurposing the hardwood floors in the school
- Gifting pieced of the hardwood floors to former staff and students of the school
- Designing a new play structure in the playground in the image of the former school

Councilor Johns put forth the questions with regards to utilizing the space as a community museum – similar to Fultz House and resident Lyle Mailman raised concerns about the existing state of repair and lifespan for the BBK Elementary School itself.

Victor Cobb, chair of the Beaver Bank Community Awareness Association committed to using the Beaver Bank Bulletin and community signs to inform the community of the upcoming demolition.

Generally speaking, the presentation was exceptional. Mr. Heiman and HRSB delivered the facts and were extremely open and transparent with their intentions for the school. They provided a forum to the community to become involved with the process and were open to their feedback with regards to memorializing the Middle Beaver Bank School.

-Thank you to the BBCAA's Kevin Copley for providing this update.

*Congratulations to all graduates of 2015!
And to all students, have a happy and safe summer!

Facts Every Family Should Know about Student Assistance

The Loan Forgiveness Program is for Nova Scotia students who choose to stay here at home to study. This program can completely wipe out their provincial loan, saving them up to $15,000.

The Permanent Disability Loan Forgiveness Program supports Nova Scotians with disabilities who often take longer to finish their studies. This program can also completely wipe out their provincial loan.

The 0% Interest Program is available to Nova Scotia graduates who stay in, or come back to, our province. There's no interest charged on their Nova Scotia student loan. Over the life of the loan, that could save them up to $800.

The Nova Scotia University Student Bursary is for Nova Scotia students studying here at home. It automatically takes $1,283 off their tuition every year, which is shown as a deduction on their tuition invoice.

A grant is money students never have to repay. All students eligible to get Nova Scotia Student Assistance receive a grant. Assistance awarded to students as grant money has recently doubled. Now a student's grant can be as much as $2,500/year.

Student Assistance helps keep post-secondary education accessible and affordable. Learn more at novascotia.ca/studentassistancefacts or follow them on Twitter/Facebook.

Summer Reading Clubs Inspire Kids

The TD Summer Reading Club is again being offering at public libraries across the province. The club is a joint initiative with Library and Archives Canada and this year's theme is Play. The program aims to encourage youth to see reading as play. With 78 branches province wide, kids will find a variety of programs and activities, including book clubs, computer gaming and gardening, along with contests and prizes. The program runs from late June to the end of August. For more information on reading club activities and special events contact your local public library.

Better-coordinated supports for victims

Better-coordinated supports for victims, more public education and awareness, and continued community engagement on prevention are among the approaches in Nova Scotia's first sexual violence strategy. Premier Stephen McNeil and Community Services Minister Joanne Bernard launched Breaking the Silence: A Coordinated Response to Sexual Violence in Nova Scotia. Two provincial committees have been formed, and a new provincial specialist has been hired to coordinate the work on the strategy. Last December, government released a summary of what Nova Scotians said during meetings and through an online survey. In April, a summary of youth engagement responses was also released.

This month, two provincial committees on training and public awareness have been appointed. A new provincial specialist has been hired to coordinate the work on the strategy. For more information on the strategy and for a list of services for victims of sexual violence, visit <http://novascotia.ca/coms/svs/>.

Happy Canada Day!

Investing in post-secondary education

Nova Scotia undergraduate students who graduate within a reasonable amount of time are now able to have their entire provincial loan forgiven.

News and Views

Congratulations to all 2015 graduates!

Congratulations to all students graduating from high school, college, university or the Flexible Learning and Education Centres. I wish you every success in your future undertakings.

High School in Eastern Passage

I am very pleased that the new high school for Eastern Passage will continue as planned. Last month, the Halifax Regional School Board voted against a motion that would have reallocated the funding for the Eastern Passage high school for urgent repairs needed in several HRSB schools. Congratulations to all of those involved in making public presentations to HRSB to support this new high school. My staff presented a letter of support for the high school on my behalf. As well, special thanks to former provincial representatives Kevin Deveau and Becky Kent and current MLA Joyce Treen who have worked for many years, alongside community members, to make this project a reality. We can now look forward to the design and construction phase of this project!

Auditor General's Report on Senate Expenses

The Auditor General has released his report on Senator's expenses and found that the "oversight, accountability, and transparency of Senator's expenses was quite simply not adequate." The report from the Auditor General calls for a transformational change in the way Senator's expenses are claimed, managed, controlled and reviewed.

New Democrats have long advocated for the abolition of the Senate and proposed reforms that would make Senators less partisan and more accountable. We have also called for a nation-wide referendum so Canadians can have input on Senate reform. As stipulated by the 2014

Supreme Court ruling, any federal government reforms to the Senate must have the consent of seven provinces (representing half of the country's population). This means that Ottawa cannot act alone to limit Senate terms, appoint elected Senators, or introduce any other reforms. As well, the federal government would need unanimous consent from the provinces to eliminate the Senate. Abolishing the Senate could save taxpayers $90 million per year.

In the federal election campaign this fall, the NDP will campaign for Senate abolition. Please send me your thoughts on Senate reform.

The Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC)

The Truth and Reconciliation Commission released its final report entitled Honouring the Truth, Reconciling for the Future. Its mandate is to inform all Canadians about what happened in Indian Residential Schools and guide us in a process of reconciliation and renewed relationships that are based on mutual understanding and respect. In the past six years, the commissioners interviewed more than 7,000 people across the country. The final report spans six volumes and contains 94 recommendations on areas such as child welfare, education, language and culture, health and justice.

With this report, we have been given a path forward, towards finally implementing real reconciliation. As Canadians, we all share a responsibility to learn about this dark chapter of our history. The NDP is committed to build a nation to nation relationship based on respect and reconciliation and are urging the government to act immediately on key issues such as education, child welfare and health services to bridge the gap between Indigenous peoples and other Canadians.

NDP secures victory for consumers on pay-to-pay bank fees

MP's from all parties voted in favour of an NDP proposal to ban banks operating in Canada from charging consumers an extra fee for basic transactions or to get paper statements in the mail. A mandatory financial code of conduct prohibiting pay-to-pay practices by banks operating in Canada will protect Canadian consumers. Last year, the federal government introduced legislation on pay-to-pay fees for telecommunication and cable companies but banks were excluded from this legislation. My colleague Andrew Cash pushed for an expansion to this legislation that will restrict banks from charging customers fees to pay their mortgage, credit card, and student loan payments.

Update from Station 48 "50 Years of 24/7"

Your fire department continues to be busy training and responding to calls within our community. Since the last update, we have responded to 20 calls; 1 medical assist, 2 motor vehicle accidents, 4 alarms activated, 1 plane crash, 7 illegal burns, 1 chimney fire, 1 brush fire, 1 special services call, and 2 structure fires. The total number of calls so far for the year is 61 responses.

Summer has finally arrived, and with it comes BBQ's, vacations, community gatherings, and most importantly – the kids have finished school and are on summer break. With that in mind, a friendly reminder to all drivers that a child could be playing near the streets of our community, so drive with due care and caution especially near playgrounds and other areas where children will gather.

Even though school is out for summer, the fire department would like to remind all drivers that the parking lot at the fire hall is not a shortcut. There have been a few near misses with private vehicles speeding through the fire department parking lot, especially in the morning when kids were being dropped off for school. The parking lot entrance is only accessed from Kinsac Road. Only the fire trucks pass through the lot in order to safely access the bay doors and their assigned parking spaces. For the safety of the public, the volunteer firefighters and all drivers please do not drive through the parking lot and respect the posted signage.

Another upcoming summer event for the fire department is the Annual Softball Tournament and Silent Auction. The members of the Beaver Bank – Kinsac Volunteer Firefighters Association will once again be holding this annual event at the Beaver Bank Ballfields on July 18th & 19th, 2015. The tournament brings together first responders for a weekend of fun with a canteen/BBQ on site and a silent auction. Feel free to come on down and check out the items up for auction and support your local volunteer fire department.

The 50th Anniversary celebrations for the Beaver Bank – Kinsac Volunteer Fire Department has come and gone. The department would like to thank everyone who attended and those who helped out in making our celebrations a wonderful weekend of memories. It was great to meet up with past members and reminisce about the good old days as well as talk about the future and where we go from here. It won't be long until the department celebrates another 50 years of service to the community.

In closing, your local fire department wishes everyone a safe and productive summer. Until next time – stay and play safe.

About HomeWarming

All Nova Scotians deserve to enjoy the comfort of a warm, energy efficient home, regardless of income. HomeWarming is offered by Clean Foundation and Efficiency Nova Scotia, with financial support from Nova Scotia Power and the Province of Nova Scotia. The program assists qualifying homeowners with improvements to their home that improve energy efficiency and comfort of the home.

In a typical home, 80% of heat loss is caused by drafts and poor insulation. Improving insulation and reducing drafts can help keep a home warmer in the winter and cooler in the summer. In most homes, heating and cooling is about 60% of all energy costs. Reducing heating and cooling bills can make other household expenses more manageable.

Here are five questions to get you started on determining if HomeWarming is right for someone you know (must be able to answer YES to all):

1. Does their income meet the service's income eligibility criteria? (See www.homewarming.ca)
2. Do they own a single-unit home located in Nova Scotia, and can they provide proof of ownership?

3. Do they live in their home year-round, and is it their primary residence?
4. Do they plan to live in their home for the long-term?
5. Is this the first time their home will participate in this service? (Please note, due to funding limitations, houses are only eligible for income-qualified program upgrades once per lifetime).
