Beaver Bank Wind Turbines hit by Vandals

Beaver Bankers were very saddened and upset to hear that the new wind turbines in Upper Beaver Bank were severely damaged on February 4th.

Four wind turbines at the North Beaver Bank Community Wind Project run by Scotian Wind Fields were vandalized. One or two turbines were shut off and a rescue kit was stolen from each, according to Gay Harley, Community Manager for the site. The damage is considered to be in the thousands.

The wind project sits on land owned by Barrett Truss and Building Supplies of which David Barrett is the co-owner and woodland manager. One of his employees first came across the damage when he found the locked gate on the road leading to the turbines torn apart. One of the boom trucks located on-site had the ignition ruined and the fuel was stolen out of it.

Scotian Wind Farms is a company that gives back to the community. A percentage of the income earned through this project is provided to the Beaver Bank Community Awareness Association which is then distributed to community groups through its Community Dividend Fund. Community groups can submit a request for donation by going to the BBCCA website.

The investigation into the windmill vandalism is still under investigation however; Mr. David Barrett and Scotian Wind Fields are offering $500 each to anyone who brings forward information that leads to the arrest or conviction of those responsible.

Annual Monte Carlo Night in Beaver Bank

The Annual Monte Carlo Night was held at the Beaver Bank Kinsac Community Centre on February 27th. It was another cowboy themed fun-filled night of Black Jack and games of chance with lots of prizes to be won. Over a hundred prizes were handed out in the balloon pop alone!

Special thanks to Sue McLearn and Victor Cobb for their wonderful talent for planning and organizing, our emcee Lisa

Patterson, and Jamie Patterson our Black Jack coach, all of the dealers and helpers, Cheryl and Marina our bartenders, the Keeners Senior's Group for organizing the prize room and entrance table, and the decorating and clean-up crew. Your dedication to the BBCAA and the Bulletin are greatly appreciated!

We hope you had fun –see you again next year!!

We would also like to thank all of those who sponsored our evening and donated prizes. Please visit our website at www.beaverbank.ca for the list of donations.

Update from Station 48 – Keeping Busy with the Changing Weather

Your fire department continues to be busy training and responding to calls within our community. Since the last update for the Bulletin we have responded to 23 pages for assistance.

We ended the year of 2015 with 127 responses. They included five medical assists, one structure fire, and one motor vehicle accident in the later part of December after the Bulletin submission deadline.

2016 started off quickly for the department with our first call for assistance 32 seconds into the New Year. So far for the year 2016, we have responded to 16 call outs; nine medical assists, three alarm activations, two structure fires (mutual aid), one assistance request, and one investigation.

Winter so far has been a roller-coaster with fluctuating temperatures and different types of precipitation whether it be rain, ice pellets or snow. Most of the ponds and lakes at one point were frozen over but many have become ice-free in the last few days. Due to the extreme changes in weather we are experiencing this winter, before you venture out on pond that still has ice; use caution and have a responsible person check the thickness of the ice before proceeding. In most cases the best and safest action with the current conditions is stay off the ice.

The fire department would like to thank those in the community that are "Adopting a Fire Hydrant" this winter. As we respond to calls and in particular on the way back to the station after the call, we are noticing that many of our residents are keeping the hydrant near their property clear of ice and snow. We appreciate all the hard work keeping those hydrants clear and it allows us to focus on the emergency at hand if we show up at a call versus losing time having to dig out the hydrant first. Thank you and keep up the good effort.

As Station Chief, I am proud of our volunteers that make up our local fire department and their commitment to the community. Whether it is training, meetings, or responding to calls in our community, the members of your fire department continue to be ready to help those when the call comes in. Two of the members of the fire department are striving to reach a goal that will help a family in the community. Keith O'Brien and Pete Hodges have taken on a personal challenge to help out a little girl named Mackayla. They are raising donations for the family for much needed medical equipment through very different methods. Peter will be running the Halifax Bluenose half marathon this spring in full bunker gear and self-contained breathing apparatus to raise funds and awareness. Keith is participating in a full marathon (42 km) in Fredericton to qualify for the 2017 Boston Marathon and is dedicating his run to raise donations as well. These gentlemen have set their sights to reach their personal goals and help out a family within our community. The fire department is supporting their endeavour and you can too. For more information and to help them reach their goal, you can make a donation online at:

<https://www.gofundme.com/u8j4j97g>

In closing, winter will be around for some time yet. Be prepared for what the weather sends your way. The better you are prepared, the less likely you will get a visit from your local fire department.

Until next time – stay and play safe.

-Kevin Crewe – Station Chief

Beaver Bank Kinsac Community Centre

Hello Beaver Bank!

My name is Kelly MacNeil and I will be taking over for Jessica Davison as the new Facility Coordinator of the Beaver Bank Kinsac Community Centre as of February 26th until February of 2017. As a lifelong Beaver Bank-Kinsac resident I have grown up, worked and volunteered in this community. You may remember two siblings that raised money to build Beaver Bank's Skate Park, or you may have seen me working for Marina & Cheryl at the Beaver Bank Children's Learning Centre. I have also been the Recreation Programming Coordinator at the Beaver Bank Kinsac Community Centre for the past two summers. I am coming to this position from four years spent at Acadia University studying Community Development and Environment & Sustainability Studies. I am looking forward to working in this great and resilient community!

Notary Public – Commissioners of Oath

Please contact my office if you require the services of a Notary Public or Commissioners of Oath. Some government forms require stamps or signatures from a Commissioner of Oaths or Notary Public. I am legally authorized to administer oaths, affirmations, or declarations to persons making the affidavit. Please contact my office so we can arrange a convenient time for an appointment for this purpose. There is no fee for this service.

Make it Here

Government is committed to recruiting the next generation of workers into the Nova Scotia Public Service. There are many programs available to help students and workers make it here. Find programs that let you get the skills to stay, get a foot in the door, or get funding to hire young workers.

Get the Skills to Stay Here

Graduate Scholarship Program - Graduate scholarships put money directly in the hands of graduate students who are doing research that will help Nova Scotia innovate, grow and succeed. Nova Scotia universities administer the program on government's behalf. Interested graduate students should talk to their university about the scholarships.

Nova Scotia School for Adult Learning - The Nova Scotia School for Adult Learning (NSSAL) offers educational programs across the province to help Nova Scotians develop the skills they need to learn, live, and work in their communities.

Careers Nova Scotia – Careers Nova Scotia can help Nova Scotians find good jobs. There are centres across the province that can help Nova Scotians make better career decisions, or learn more about the courses and training needed to land a job. Student Assistance - Nova Scotia has one of the best student assistance programs in the country. Provincial loans are interest-free, there are up-front bursaries and grants students don't have to repay, and the loan forgiveness program can wipe out a Nova Scotia student's entire provincial loan, worth up to $15,000.

Apprenticeship - Apprenticeship is a type of post-secondary education that provides technical and hands-on training to those for those who want to gain certification to work in a skilled trade.

Immigration Entrepreneurship Streams - Nova Scotia has launched two new business immigration streams to attract international entrepreneurs and keep international graduates of Nova Scotia universities and colleges here.

Get a Foot in the Door O2 Program - Options and Opportunities (O2) offers high school students more hands-on learning experiences with a focus on careers. It helps prepare students to successfully transition from high school to work, a career path, or a post-secondary program.

Graduate to Opportunity - Graduate to Opportunity (GTO) helps employers offset the cost of hiring a recent graduate and helps post-secondary graduates find career opportunities in Nova Scotia.

Funding to Hire Young Workers Energy Training Program - Nova Scotia's Energy Training Program for Students, managed by the Department of Energy, provides wage subsidies up to 50 per cent (to a maximum of $7.50/hour) to eligible companies to hire students and recent graduates.

Co-op Education Incentive - The Strategic Cooperative Education Incentive (SCEI) offers eligible employers wage incentives to hire university and college co-op students if they give students career-related work experience.

Student summer Skills Incentive (SKILL) - The Student Career Skills Development Program (SCSDP) offers wage assistance to non-profit organizations that offer career-related summer jobs for students going to university or college in the fall.

START - START encourages employers to hire Nova Scotians who need work experience. Financial incentives are provided to employers who have labour needs and are willing to support ready-to-work Nova Scotians.

Job Creation Partnerships (JCP) - This program supports projects that benefit the community and provide eligible participants with work experience that will help them get a job.

For more information on the programs in place to support young workers visit makeithere.novascotia.ca.

Make It Here connects Nova Scotians with government programs for education and training, and entering the workforce. It also connects employers with supports to hire or train new grads and young Nova Scotians.

Nova Scotia Pins and Flags

Sports teams or official delegations often request Nova Scotia pins or flags to show their pride in Nova Scotia while traveling out of the province. If you would like Nova Scotia pins or flags please contact my office, Quantities may be limited.

Scouting Fun!

The 2nd Beaver Bank Beavers had a thoroughly great time at the Cobequid Lakes Area Winter Beaverree.

-Thank you Scouter May for submitting this picture.

News from our MP

Thank you for all who attended our open house on February 10, 2016! It was nice meeting so many of you. If you missed us, drop by the office from Monday- Friday 8:30-12 PM and 1PM 4:30 PM to meet our staff.

Reflecting on the first 100 days of Real Change for Canadians, here are some highlights:

Day 1: Gender Balance

The Government of Canada announces the first gender-balanced cabinet in Canadian history.

Day 8: Implementation of the UN Declaration on Rights of Indigenous Peoples

We reverse the decision taken by the previous government in 2007 to vote against this Declaration at the UN and affirm our commitment and support for the Declaration.

Day 36: Tabling of the Ways and Means Motion on Bill C2

With the tabling of the motion on C2, we move forward with our promise on a tax cut for the middle class.

Day 79: Real Progress on Affordable Health Care: Coalition for Bulk Drug Purchasing

In the First Health Ministers' meeting, we join a coalition with the provinces and territories to purchase pharmaceuticals in bulk for potential healthcare savings of billions per year.

Day 84: New Environmental Assessment Processes

Minister McKenna and Minister Carr announce that we will enact more steps to ensure the protection of the environment and restore the credibility in the National Energy Board. This will ensure decisions are based on science, facts, and evidence, and in full partnership and consultation with Indigenous communities.

Day 85: The Repeal of C377 and C525 (C4)

In the proposed repeal of two of Canada's labour laws passed under the previous government, we re-establish our commitment to legislation that best serves employees and employers.

On Infrastructure:

- After extensive cross-country consultations, the Liberal government's first budget will be drafted to fulfill our promise to invest in middle class families and create jobs by investing in roads, transit, housing and green infrastructure.
- In addition to our plan to double infrastructure investments over the next ten years, Minister Sohi is working closely with the provinces and territories to stimulate the economy through allocating the existing $10B from the New Building Canada Fund as soon as possible.

In the House of Commons in February

I highlighted the contributions African Nova Scotians as founding members of our province and of our country. In addition, I reminded everyone to take a moment to reflect on the ongoing contributions of this community during Black History Month.

I also spoke in support of Bill C-4 – An act to amend the Canada Labour Code. This bill repealed unfair Conservative legislation from the last Parliament.

House of Commons Committees

I am proud to have been appointed to two House of Commons committees: the Canadian Heritage Committee and the Official Languages Committee. I look forward to bringing my experience and knowledge to these important discussions.

- Quantities of meals are limited. If we have more guests than meals prepared, we may have to prepare something else for your lunch. We will not send you away hungry. We can supply gluten free meals if requested.
- All meals are donation only except for our Valentines menu. We survive on your donations. Due to rising food costs, we have had to cut back on some non-essential items such as the small Christmas gifts and Valentines candy. We will not be able to do our corned beef and cabbage for Saint Patrick's Day this year because it is no longer in our price range. We pay rental for the hall each week for our luncheons and cards, and an extra rental the day before our larger meals such as Christmas and Easter. In the past year, we've had to replace a deep freeze and a stove.
- We are not subsidized by the government. We occasionally apply for grants, which are very specific as to what they can be used for. Both MLA's in the area buy advertising on our menus and also help by doing our printing for us.

We will continue to keep our meals "donation only" for as long as possible. Thank you for your support.
